

Forward Motion Scanning Patterns

When you're driving in a straight line, you have a scanning pattern that you're repeating every 10-15 seconds:

- far down the road; look in the center mirror;

- far down the road; check the instrument panel;

- both shoulders of the road; look in the side mirrors;

- far down the road, repeat.

And remember:

You must move your head to scan properly to pass your road test!
